I wish to compliment the maintenance and custodial staff for a tremendous job getting the school painted and ready for the first day. It looks fantastic.

I would like to thank Barron Sample for his efforts kicking off the Cross-Country season.

I would like to thank Bonnie James, Jennifer Phillips and the rest of the DO staff for putting together our in-service.

WARM FEEDBACK:

BUILDING LEADERSHIP TEAM:

We are building our building leadership team and we are still in need of a para-professional, parent and business leader. If you know someone who would be interested please send them to see me.

STAFF:

Kudos to all of the staff members. They have come back ready to work and are doing a great job of getting things set up. Anthony has been incredible working many extra hours getting the technology component ready, the kitchen staff scrubbed from top to bottom and are almost ready to open, custodial and maintenance workers are on top of everything and keep in touch throughout the day to see if anything came up of which they were unaware.

COOL FEEDBACK:

KEYS:

I have a concern as to why teachers do not have keys to access the front door of the school. Teachers work well beyond the regular school day and on the weekends. They should be able to access their classrooms on their own. We are not sending the proper message to our teachers. I agree that classified staff should not have direct building access, but certified teachers should as well as any director who needs access to the buildings and classrooms.

D.O. and SCHOOL VEHICLES:

Due to the current condition of our vehicles, we should consider the purchase of a heavy-duty vehicle that has the ability to transport people. The expedition has been down for a while, the van is not appropriate for transporting people, and the maintenance department needs to use the pick-up trucks to do their jobs.

Another vehicle purchase we should consider is a boat that has the ability to safely transport people from village to village and to Bethel and back. Yes, there is a cost and yes, there is the need to have multiple people go through the 6-pack training; however, the logistical experiences, just since I have been in the village, could have been avoided and made the experience of coming to the Yupit School District much more enjoyable.

INTERNET:

We should consider working with the village to provide internet access at a gathering point in the village and getting away from the school and teacher housing. This should help reduce vandalism and breakings in both locations. We would need to control the settings, but we would be, in my opinion, a better place security wise.

We also need to consider providing internet to the teachers housing. At this time there is not a program that fully integrates new teachers into the communities. As such, the isolation can be difficult for some to deal with on a long-term basis.

WORKING CONDITIONS:

I have been approached by several staff members about the working conditions and how they have spoken to and treated by members of the leadership team. They are feeling disrespected. We need to be mindful that, while we all have a job to do, people need to be treated with respect and not verbally abused or making unvalidated reports and running to Board members or the Superintendent. If there is a question about something, we should be adults and approach the person/people directly. We do not want to lose anyone in the next week and I have threats of people doing so because of the way they are being treated.

COLD FEEDBACK:

Nothing to report.

KEYS:

Currently, I am not authorized to give teachers keys that will unlock the outside door into the school. Right now, teachers that would like to come in and work outside of regular school hours must contact I or Steve Bellande the assistant principal. I have a teacher that would like to come in as early as 4am to begin working on lessons for his students. I would like to be authorized to issue the SM3CA key for Akiak school teachers.

KEYS:

Teachers are currently not authorized to have a key to the front door of the school. This impedes their ability to create lesson plans after the normal work day. Teachers are trusted to care for and supervise your children, grandchildren, thus the trust for them to have a key to their school should be implied. I have several teachers who access the building on the weekend and late evenings after their dinner. Myself or Mr. Brown are required to unlock the school door for them. Most teachers are not wanting to interrupt my evening or weekend and have a hard time asking. I am asking the YSD Board to make a motion for a proposal to permit the Certificated Staff to have their own building key in order to provide and help Teachers meet the academically challenging needs of all our students according to their own timeline.

REQUEST FOR FUNDING of LINE ITEM 310: See Attached Letter for Funding Request.

07/24/2019 -current	Programming the PS SPED program.	PS SPED is now the Alaska State Special Education Reporting/Document Model. It was installed by Power School on the 2nd of August, work prior was in getting it set up to install. Working forward, it will be set up so that all teachers and paraprofessionals can see the IEP of their designated students from PS. The program must be set up with individual permissions according to Special Education guidelines per individual. All ESERS and IEPS, as well as behavior plans, RTI and 504's will be recorded in this program from now on. The program also allows for the Special Education team at DEED to view and audit online rather than having to travel site to site.	This program gives better access, without the wasted paper copies, to all staff who are entitled to access. It also allows for better DO access for hard copy files. It provides better security and confidentiality to student SPED records. PS SPED is less cumbersome than other programs freeing up more time for the SPED staff to spend with students and less on paperwork.
08/07/2019	FERPA	Director gave FERPA instructional talk to all staff at in-service. Also gave all staff access to FERPA PowerPoint for reference and instructions in how to password protect emails for confidentiality.	Protect the confidentiality of our students.
08/08/2019	SPED staff training	Director conducted training with SPED staff, teachers and paraprofessionals for 3.5 hours during the all staff in-service. Provided SPED teachers with a binder containing Alaska Deed Guidelines, outlines for SPED process, RTI, curriculum, assessments, recommendations on ESER and IEP writing, and encouraging thoughts.	Helps SPED staff to be comfortable and confident with the changes in the department and program. Makes sure we, as a department are meeting the academic, social, emotional, and cultural needs of our students and staff.
Week of 08/12/2019	Telephone meetings with SPED staff and parents of SPED students	Director has made time available to speak with SPED teachers and Parents who may have concerns about individual students. In these conversations we have laid out timelines in which we will observe and document these students for further evaluation.	Makes sure we, as a department are meeting the academic, social, emotional, and cultural needs of our students and staff.

- I do not think we can successfully remove them from school but should teach good social media manners and phone manners. Only using them on personal time or when requested for academic purposes.
- Classroom expectation and teacher classroom management should be able to deal with this issue. Cell phones are a current technology that is not going away. Our policy needs to accept the changing society and allow for students to succeed in our modern world. The same goes for our staff meetings and inservices, adults too face the same struggles with technology and need to be reminded of proper etiquette and providing respect to the teacher, speaker, and fellow learners. Cell phones can be a tool for the classroom as well.
- Last year my students would try to listen to music/be on their phones in class. After establishing that I will always take the phone, the problems diminished and we were able to proceed the rest of the year without problems. My opinion is that as long as they know the rules and we have solid consequences for breaking the rules, cell phones can be a nice reward for the students at appropriate times.
- I think if students use phones in class the phone should be taken to the office and the parent must pick up the phone.
- As an elementary teacher (3rd - 5th) I used my phone as a timer, I've handed mine out to students to use to google information as many of the students don't have one, I've allowed students to use their phones to google information (when school isn't testing) I've also allowed students to play music for the whole class during work times if it was downloaded, and if all students consented. I've had students use their cell's calculator function for various activities, I've used the cell phones for students to write & read texts (motivated R & W) but since not all students had cell phones we shared by table group, I've had students use cells to create quiz questions and text them to each other and then text answers (I had learned this highly motivational technique in the "old" days with class palms) again because not all students had phones we did this as a table group activity. When we didn't use the cell phones, all students put them in a special box I had (called the phone box and decorated to look like the tardis) Using my classroom management system students were rewarded if they turned in their phones without prompting, if I had to ask if anyone needed to turn in their cells during morning routine they got rewarded but with a lower reward, and if their phone made a noise or came out of their cubby during the day they had a penalty. I had ZERO management issues with the cell phone. I also believe that allowing appropriate usage helps prevent misuse. I'm all about preventing unwanted, misuse/abusive or negative behaviors. Research has shown that by teaching or allowing alternative adaptive behaviors is the best way to prevent unwanted behaviors.
- Some of the questions do not relate to my position as an elementary teacher. However, I believe students should be able to have phones in school, possibly collected by the teacher, and used when the teacher permits it. There's an opportunity to learn with technology when used correctly. Cell phones are an important element for any individual, including students and teachers. When structured correctly, a cell phone policy can contribute to a sound learning environment. They should not be prohibited.
- I believe there is enough technology in school for students to use in class for research. The policy should be consistent through school not teacher to teacher.
- There needs to be a policy that is rigidly ENFORCED.

- I am ok with cell phones for academic use only. Example-looking up a word, timing a science experiment , checking your grades on power school etc.
- Don't like idea of using phones as attendance or where phones will or could be taken by another student. Leave them at office where it could be locked. Permission slips could be used if/when teacher wants students to bring phones to school (newspaper for photos) Or Must take class and pass (quarter semester) on safety on usage of internet to bring phones to school
- I would allow students to have their phones as if they would not use them but they can't do it.
- Rules for adults and students are fair but not the same. That's life. During school, student phones should be used as tools for learning only. If cell phone use is a serious issue that also involves disrespectful interaction with adults then there should be a zero cell phone policy for a period of time and then bring them back with very specific guidelines involving follow through by the adults in the school.
- I think the goal should be to encourage responsible cell phone use. However, most students are not able to do that with current self discipline skills. Using cell phone can be an incredible disruption to the learning process.
- I believe this is the parent's job, however, I realize we have to do this.
- There is no need for students to have cell phones. We have online resources for them to use. Their phones are nothing more than a distraction from learning. In addition, students using their cell phones during the day takes needed data away from teachers for educational uses.
- The use of cell phones by our middle & High School students is causing a huge drop in internet signal and preventing teachers from carrying out lessons with technology/ smart board etc. This has been happening over the last several years and causing many issues. Students can use the office phone if they need to contact their families and like wise the parents or family of students can call the school to get in touch with their child.
- My answer to the last question might change depending on the availability of the Wireless network and the ipads available to assign a task to be done online.
